SAMUEL G. ECKEL, ASSOCIATE

OVERVIEW

Sam Eckel is active as part of the business law and M&A team. He has worked on several multi-million dollar deals, joint ventures and private equity lendings for clients that span industries including manufacturing, solar power and medical.

He has handled various aspects of the firm's M&A deals from drafting deal documents and due diligence, to coordinating disclosure schedules for representations and warranties, to the sale of personal goodwill. Sam frequently works on general corporate matters including drafting of by-laws, operating agreements, and shareholder agreements.

In the area of real estate, Sam represents firm clients in every stage of the transaction including negotiation of purchase-and-sale agreements, mortgage discharges and title review.

Sam worked as a commercial lease administration analyst for Jones Lang LaSalle, a leading financial and professional services firm that specializes in commercial real estate services and investment management worldwide. Sam was also a contract attorney at Morgan, Lewis & Bockius in the Philadelphia office and completed internships for the Rhode Island Center for Law and Public Policy and the Office of the Attorney General in Philadelphia.

COMMUNITY

Professional and Community Involvement

Samuel Eckel was appointed to the board of directors for the South County Youth Soccer Club, a volunteer organization dedicated to promoting and developing youth soccer in southern Rhode Island.

PRESENTATIONS AND PUBLICATIONS

Samuel Eckel and Rachelle Green co-authored the chapter on employment agreements in A Practical Guide to Employment Law in Rhode Island published by the MCLE New England (2016).
